

HONOR AWARDS

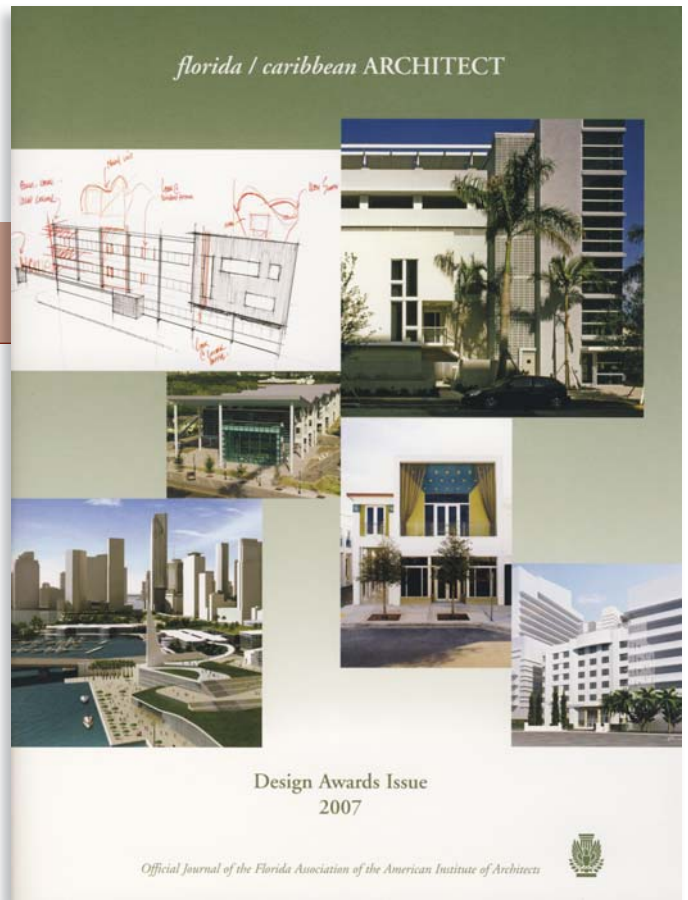

Builder of the Year Creative Arts Unlimited, Inc.

Creative Arts Unlimited has been providing high quality design services since 1992, creating custom and themed architectural elements and decorative products for the commercial, residential and institutional markets. In the past year, Creative Arts' projects have received the Architectural Woodwork Institute's 2006 Award of Excellence for the Bishop Planetarium in Bradenton, Florida. The company also received Best Overall Design honors from Surface Fabrication Magazine.

The company provides a variety of services to architects including Exhibit Development, audio-video, graphics and signage, artifact handling and restoration and creative development. Creative Arts offers museums, visitor centers, libraries, retail stores and hospital venues complete concept design service through fabrication and installation. Custom-themed home theaters and planetarium theaters are part of the company's capability as are three-dimensional graphics and complex signage. The leaders of the Creative design time are graduates of The Ringling

Detail of lobby column in the Bishop Planetarium. Photo courtesy of Creative Arts Unlimited.

School of Art and Design with over 40 years of experience in the graphic arts.

The company is approved by the State of Florida's Division of Historical Resources to design and fabricate archival mounts and handle rare artifacts. They are also an approved fabricator of true archival cases to protect and display valuable artifacts.

Part of the design/build process for museums and visitor centers is the research required to accurately tell the subject story. Creative Arts works with clients to develop the storyline, research and write the text and coordinate all the interior design elements.